

Michael Jackson

By Virginia Reyer

Michael Joseph Jackson was born on Aug. 29, 1958 in Gary, IN at 11.53 PM, CDT. Lat. 41° N 35'36", Long. 87° W 20'47", the 7th of 9 children. His father, steelworker Joe Jackson, was a strict and often ill-tempered disciplinarian. His mother, Katherine, was of the Jehovah's Witness faith.

Michael was to an extent sheltered from the outside world. His father began to organize a family musical group in 1962 and when Michael joined his brothers a year later, he quickly established himself as a dynamic stage performer. The boys, known as the Jackson 5, began playing in local clubs and bars and moved further afield as their talents grew. In 1968, Bobby Taylor of the Vancouvers discovered the Jackson 5 and introduced them to Barry Gordy, founder of Motown Records. Gordy renamed them as the Jackson Five, moved them to Hollywood, where Diana Ross introduced them to the outside world. They had a number of hits throughout the 1970s, and during that decade both Michael and his brother Jermaine became solo artists. In the 1980's, Michael was named "Artist Of The Decade." In 1982 his album "Thriller" became one of the most commercially successful albums of all time. In 1985 he co-wrote and performed on the USA for Africa benefit single, "We Are the World," another international number-one seller.

In 1991 he signed with Sony Music, and in 1992 he founded the "Heal the World Foundation" to help improve the lives of children across the world.
