SUSAN MILLER

Friday: ECLIPSES

Saturday: ASTROLOGY AND MYTHOLOGY

FRIDAY LECTURE

Astrologer, Susan Miller, will give a lecture on Eclipses on Friday, February 15, 2002 at the monthly meeting of the Arizona Society of Astrologers. Eclipses, the cosmic wild cards in our chart, provide some of the biggest themes that we work on within the course of a year. Watching how they tend to work provides plenty of insight on how to best deal with the challenges and sudden opportunities that they bring. Come to this lecture to learn everything there is to know about eclipses, and start your own lifelong interest in these fascinating phenomena. The Lecture will be held at the Scottsdale Senior Center at 7374 E. 2nd Street in Scottsdale. The doors open at 7:00 PM. Admission is $4.00 for members and $10.00 for guests.

SATURDAY WORKSHOP

On Saturday, February 16, 2002 Susan Miller will conduct a 4-hour workshop on Astrology and Mythology. The ancient stories associated with each of the signs will tell you more about the quality of that sign than any list of keywords could ever do for you. If you want to become really proficient in astrology, learning the myths would be one of the very best ways to accomplish that. Using her book, Planets & Possibilities (Warner Books, c. 2001) as text for this discussion, join Susan Miller for an afternoon of fun storytelling and group discussion. You may never view your own sign quite the same again! The Workshop will be held at the Scottsdale Senior Center at 7374 E. 2nd Street in Scottsdale. The doors open at Noon. Admission is $10.00 for members and $15.00 for guests.

ABOUT SUSAN MILLER

Susan Miller is an internationally known accredited astrologer, author, and columnist with twenty-five years of experience. She is known especially for her private work to business clients. Her award-winning website is Astrology Zone®: <http://www.astrologyzone.com>

Originated in December 1995, and has since become the most loved, comprehensive and detailed monthly forecast available in any media. Her site has garnered ten million page views and over one million unique users a month. Astrology Zone® has also won many awards for content from such respected sources as the New York Times, Newsweek and Yahoo Internet Life. Miller writes a monthly horoscope for Self as well as Teen magazines and has written countless cover stories for other consumer magazines, both in America and for publications abroad.

She is the author of the critically acclaimed book, PLANETS AND POSSIBILITIES (Warner Books, c.2001), available in hardcover and paperback, which made the top 100 list on the Barnes & Noble.com best selling titles for 2001. She now teaches a free, eight-lesson course on astrology at the Barnes & Noble University online (<http://barnesandnobleuniversity.com>) Thousands of students have enthusiastically signed up since the recurring course was first introduced in June 2001.

In January she published THE YEAR AHEAD 2002 with Barnes & Nobel Digital for both eBook and traditional book sales. It instantly became a best seller for the retailer, and as a result future projects are being mapped out.

The success of both her website and her books have made Susan Miller a regular television guest. Miller has been on “20/20” with John Stossel, “The View” with Barbara Walters and has made frequent appearances on “CBS Early Show” with Bryant Gumbel.

PLANETS AT THE DEGREE OF NODES

Ó Judy Collins

When you look for karmic lessons in the chart, one of the most significant aspect is a planet at the degree of the Nodes of the Moon. Those planetary positions will be one indicator of what the soul had in mind for this lifetime. It is not an easy or an uneventful life if an individual has these placements. There is a definite purpose for the soul to choose this body and this time of birth. Also, if the Ascendant or MidHeaven is at the degree of the nodes, this too is important, because it relates to how the individual will project out into the world. The planet, Ascendant or MidHeaven must be within the one-degree orb aspect of the Node.

The first thing to consider is when the Ascendant is at the degree of the Node. This person has come into this life with a special mission that is based on at least one and probably several lifetimes. The houses where the Nodes fall in the chart points to the areas the person is to address with a concentrated effort.

If the Nodes are Angular, the actions taken by the individual will affect them personally, the home, marriage and career. Often there is a definite crossroad in life that will demand the person to make hard choices, which will be at great personal cost and struggle.

When the Nodes are in the Succedent houses, it usually will affect the money, self-esteem, love relationships and issues dealing with desires that maybe hard to obtain.

Nodes in the Cadent houses are generally about communication skills, health issues and work ethics, beliefs, anxieties and fears.

If the MidHeaven is at the degree of the Nodes, career choices are very important. When a person feels satisfied in their career, they seem to flourish in all areas of life. When they do not, life seems to be out of control in many ways. Again, depending on where the Nodes are in the chart determines how the individual's Ascendant or MidHeaven will function.

When investigating those life lessons brought over from previous lives, look at the separating aspects of the planets to the Nodes. If the Nodes are also receiving an applying aspect, this shows that the individual is working in this life on those issues with a new direction. The closer the orbs are, the more important this lesson is for the person. Keep the orb at less than one degree. Determine the life lessons by the planet, where it is by house and the aspects to the Nodes.

The personal planets (Sun, Moon, Mercury, Venus and Mars) at the degree of the Nodes usually deal with relationship problems. It can present a crisis where people and events cause the individual to experience upsets in life around the areas of marriage, children and everyday life.

If the Moon, which is the planet of accumulated life times, is at the degree of the Nodes of the Moon, the emotional habit patterns of life need to be addressed. How does the individual seem to handle the everyday life crises? Do they over react or hide in a shell? What role do security issues play in their lives? Is their life a continuing tradition of a family pattern? How does the person show a nurturing spirit? These questions can be best answered by looking to the house with the sign of Cancer.

If the Sun is at the degree of the Nodes, the person may have the feeling of having to fight for any identity. Their true spirit seems to always be tested in life. The house where the Sun is and the separating aspects can point to the areas of concern. The Sun's applying aspects along with the house of Leo, can give the person a place to grow in this lifetime.

Mercury at the degree of the Nodes limits the ability for the person to think and reason as they would want. There may actually be a problem in the area of memory, breathing or speech. The houses of Gemini and Virgo will show the areas of stress. If the person feels pushed into making decisions, then any of those problems may develop. How a person thinks, speaks and breathes can take a toll in their lives. All Mercury health issues stem from negative habitual patterns because of the signs Gemini and Virgo.

Venus at the degree of the Nodes limits how a person can give and receive love. In addition to these feelings, a person may have problems with money. The houses of Taurus and Libra will show areas that the person feels incomplete in some way. It has a lot to do with self-esteem issues in their life. The person may feel unworthy of love or seeks out relationships that ultimately harm them.

When Mars is at the degree of the Nodes, the person's direction in life is usually on a negative course. They seem to take two steps backward for one step forward in their growth. The House of Aries and sometimes Scorpio will show where the person needs to concentrate on improving their projection into the world. Separating aspects show from previous lives the areas where this action is coming from. Hopefully, with the applying aspects the person can start to take positive forward steps to a happy life. They need to plan out their actions, review the consequences of them and develop a new way of putting effort into their world.

The outer planets Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto address the evolution of the soul. These planets point to the growth of the soul through some hard experiences in life. It may be coming from the early years or happenings that changed their life forever.

Jupiter at the degree of the Nodes can make the person's judgment and belief system a source of problems in life. The house of Sagittarius and Jupiter's separating aspects point to the areas of concern. All applying aspects from Jupiter will give the individual opportunities for a change in judgment and beliefs. If Jupiter rules any of the angles and has both separating and applying aspects, the areas of personal direction, home, marriage and career issues must be addressed in this lifetime. The house that Jupiter is in shows the area where the person will be tested on their beliefs both spiritual and material. Think of Jupiter as the planet of understanding. When Jupiter is at the degree of the Nodes, what you believe and what you understand about any situation needs to be perceived as to the truth of the reality.

Saturn at the degree of the Nodes will hold the person responsible for everything that happens in this lifetime. Because Saturn is known as the planet of karma and has definite lessons in this life, the individual may feel like the world is on his or her shoulders. There may be an important lesson relating to father or authority figures in the life. The house of Capricorn will feel like a heavy burden to the person. Here is where they may feel there is so much to be responsible. Because Saturn is the planet of timing, when decisions must be made involving major changes progressions and transits should be carefully studied. Of all the planets at the degree of the Nodes, here Saturn's sign is also important along with where it rules, the house it is in and the separating and applying aspects. Saturn's sign will give clues to how the person is to operate in this life. If Saturn is in Capricorn, Aquarius, Cancer, Leo, Libra or Aries, the lessons are emphasized and separating aspects show past life karma that needs to be dealt with now.

Uranus at the degree of the Nodes can make a person feel like they are standing on dynamite that is ready to blow. Life seems so changeable the person can't feel any permanency. Where Aquarius is ¹n the chart is probably the only house that feels like things can be dealt with easily even though this is the very house that needs to be addressed with stability using the best Saturn aspects possible. Uranus asks that the individuals show their uniqueness in life and be changeable, but when at the degree of the Nodes, the person will have a tendency to make those changes without careful thought. A true rebel, always wanting life to be different is this person. If the person has separating aspects from Uranus to Saturn, the person may have felt held back in the last life time and wants freedom in this one. The person shows their ability to be responsible in all forms of relationships depending on the hard demanding aspects of Uranus such as applying aspects from Saturn.

Neptune at the degree of the Nodes can make a person creative, romantic and spiritual. The person does have a definite mission in this life, but the problem is getting it pinned down. The person seems to be running away, dropping out and basically in "LaLa land" most of the time. What is usually happening in their life is a sense of duty to someone or something that just takes too much energy from them to dream their dreams. The house of Pisces shows a karmic responsibility to serve out their duties in this life with no concern for themselves. When this karma is completed, the person finds himself or herself. Separating aspects points to the areas where the individual "took" in a past life and the applying aspects show where the "payment" in this life is due.
