THIS MONTH AT THE ASA

ANNUAL HOLIDAY PARTY JUDY COLLINS WILL DISCUSS THE U.S. INGRESS CHART

ASA Continues Holiday Tradition

This night only, doors open at 6:30 PM and dinner will begin at 7:00 PM. Admission to the festivities is $10 per person for members and guests alike. Or bring a “covered dish” and get in FREE. Turkey, potatoes, and trimmings are in the hands of your ASA Board.

Judy Collins on the U.S. Ingress Chart

“The Winter Ingress Chart set for DC is a representative chart for the United States for the year 2004. From that chart we can see the direction the country will take for the year. It can be reset for any state, city or country. Since the Ingress Chart is set for the Sun reaching the 0 degree of Cardinal Signs, which is a critical degree, noteworthy events are shown by the placement of the Sun, where it rules, and its aspects. The applying aspects in the chart show further events for other areas and how they will play out. Since this will be an election year, the State of the Union shown by this chart will certainly affect the outcome. This is a “Sneak Preview” for my upcoming Predictions for 2004, which will be given at the January meeting.” — Judy

Getting to Know Judy Collins

If you’ve been around ASA for any time at all, you know that Judy Collins does her best to keep us informed on the astrological underpinnings of current news events. Judy began studying astrology in 1973 and has conducted ongoing classes in all areas of astrology for over 25 years. She is particularly interested in politics, finances, major news stories, and geological events. She spoke on the Stock Exchange at the 2000 AFA Convention and also lectured at the Cosmobiology Convention.

Judy is a practicing Astrologer/Counselor in Scottsdale, AZ and is serving her third term as ASA’s Education Director. Her passion is teaching and giving workshops for other astrologers on how to hone their skills in all types of chart reading. Judy is currently working on a book, Karmic Astrology: Past Lives - Present Life - Future Lives. You can email Judy at AZSUNJUDY@aol.com.

Last Month at the ASA

Carolyn Ford - The Human Design System: A Revolutionary Approach to Knowing Oneself

By Marta Morris

Ms. Ford explained that this is a very complex system and cannot be taught in one evening or even in one weekend; but that since everyone in the audience was versed in astrology, she would endeavor to at least scratch the surface and give us an overview of the system. This system was developed by Ra Uru Hu, who “received” this information while in Spain. This information comprises only 10 percent of the total of the illumination at that time.

The Human Design system is composed of:

- Astrology/Astronomy = 8% of the big picture
- I Ching, with its 64 hexagrams which reflect the DNA structure
- The Chakra System, consisting of the 7 traditional chakras and 2 additional Centers (these developed after Uranus was discovered in 1781)
- The Kabala
- Biophysics.

There is no Ascendant. The system is time-zone related.

The Human Design System deals with the mechanics of our makeup. It is the framework on which we are constructed. There are two relevant dates listed on a chart, the Design date and the Birth date. The design date is 88 degrees back from the Sun and relates to the unconscious, whereas the birth date relates to the personality or the conscious mind.

The Sun is related to DNA inherited from the Father. The Earth is related to DNA inherited from the Mother. The rest pertains to the Ancestral DNA.

There are 4 main types in the Human Design System:

Generators make up 78% of the population. These people are here to generate life force energy but they must do so in response to an inner knowing of what is right for them. When they get out of harmony with their design, they become frustrated.

Manifestors make up 8% of the population. They are the movers and shakers. Manifestors have the energy to do whatever they want, but they should inform others before they take action or they can meet with resistance. Negatively-expressing manifestors have a lot of anger and are the “Dictators of the Past.”

Projectors make up 27% of the population and are non-energy types who need to be recognized for their unique talents and abilities. When they are not, they become bitter. Projectors are here to manage the energy they get from others, but they must wait to be invited. They are the leaders of the future.

Reflectors are rare and unusual people who make up only 1% of the population. They are lunar types, whereas the other 3 are solar. Reflectors have a 28-day cycle, and if they can get on this schedule they do better. They are like holograms, exquisitely sensitive to all the energies around them. They feel lost and overwhelmed by the world. The reflector’s primary question is, “can I be myself, and can you see me?” Reflectors are naturally awake – they are everything and nothing. They are capable of the greatest wisdom, but they are also deeply damaged. Michael Jackson is an example of a reflector.

These are the people of the future. Mothers born in 2012 will have children born after 2027 who will be of the Reflector Design. Reflectors everywhere in the world will be able to communicate with one another telepathically.

SATURDAY WORKSHOP - Human Design Analysis

Ms. Ford had run charts for the Friday night attendees. She mentioned that there were two Reflectors among the day’s attendees, even though Reflectors make up only 1 percent of the population. We had several Manifestors, as well as some Projectors. Of the remaining Generators, many were Manifesting Generators, a subtype.

Manifestors hate to be told to do anything. No one else is their authority. Respect them and forgive them - they can’t help how they are.

Reflectors absorb the energy of a group and reflect it back. Often the first emotional bond is with the mother. Death of the mother may change their outlook. They need a lot of love.

Generators have the easiest path to awakening in this life because it’s all response. To wake up as a generator is pure surrender to Self.

Four of the the nine chakras, or centers, are motors. These motors are the root chakra (how we deal with stress), sacral chakra (where we say yes or no to life), solar plexus chakra (our emotional center) and heart chakra (the center of willpower and ego). The heart chakra is the smallest and weakest of the motors.

Besides the traditional 7 chakras, there are two others: the spleen chakra (lymphatic system and the immune system) and the “G center.” The G center is the place of love and direction. It's like a homing device to take us along the trajectory of life.

In most charts, some centers are colored in and some are not. Colored-in ("defined") centers are plugged in and operating. White ("open") centers are areas where we take in the world and learn from others. Reflectors have all centers open.

The various centers are connected to one another by lines or gates. In order to manifest, the colored in "motors" must have a channel to the throat center. Various charts were used in demonstration, including the chart of Nikolai Tesla and example charts of those present.

This, as stated in Friday's lecture, is a very complicated system and difficult to simplify. However, Ms. Ford endeavored to enlighten us as follows:

CROWN – Place of inspiration

AJNA – The mind (Third Eye)

THROAT – Can speak - place of manifestation. Metabolizing - thyroid.

G CENTER – Place of love and direction/magnetic monopole. Place of identity. If undefined, you need to let other people direct your life and to absorb the identity of others. Your gift is to always know the other. There are 4 gates of love coming from the G center-different types of love.

HEART – Will power that operates when invited. Don't use will power if open. If open, don't say, "I will." Don't make promises.

EMOTIONAL (Solar Plexus) – If it is defined, you operate on an emotional sine wave. The only place of clarity is at the bottom of the wave. Strategy = there is no truth in the now. It's not good to be spontaneous. You need to take your time before responding. Kidneys.

SACRAL – Generated life force

ROOT – Adrenalized energy. If it's open, you're an adrenaline junkie (caffeine, etc.) You're always under pressure from the definitions of others. As you get older, you can't take stimulants any longer.

SPLEEN – Immune System. If defined, you act as a washing machine for others. If open, you have physical sensitivity. Pets can help connect the spleen area to the throat chakra if the individual lacks that connection. People who have a connected spleen motor can make others feel better.

The black connected lines deal with the "Conscious" or Personality. The red lines indicate the unconscious vehicle. The more we live the design, the more the personality surrenders to the vehicle. The vehicle has its agenda.

The throat center is the place of manifestation. "Motors" have to be connected to the throat motor or chakra, or one's response should be, "uh huh" or "uh uh," rather than a definitive "yes" or "no."

After the break, Ms. Ford reiterated that uncolored motors are open areas where you become wise in this lifetime. Non-connected colored-in motors cannot express.

If a center is undefined, or open, the dominant question is:

HEAD – Are you still trying to answer everybody else's questions?

AJNA – Are you still trying to convince everyone that you're certain?

SOLAR PLEXUS – Are you still avoiding confrontations and truth?

SPLEEN – Are you still holding on to what's not good for you (relationships, jobs, places)?

ROOT – Are you still in a hurry to be free of pressure?

SACRAL – Do you know when enough is enough?

EGO – Do you still have something to prove?

G – Are you still looking for love? Are you still looking for your way (i.e., or the “right” person or the “right” place)?

THROAT – Are you still trying to attract attention?

Since most of us are living out of our not-self, we encounter resistance in our lives and experience unnecessary stress and ill-health. Once we learn to live in harmony with our design, our lives will work as they were meant to.

Thank you, Marta, for summarizing this complex information so clearly.

“Short & Sweet”

A new monthly column by Judy Collins

Here is some data for you to add to your collection. As it becomes updated with new information, I will pass it on to you. If anyone has different information for the below data, please pass it on to me for our next newsletter. Most of this data was obtained from Star IQ, AstroDataBank or other reputable sites. I watch these sites frequently and have confidence in the data they post. Here is my “Short & Sweet” list for the month. You might want to run a few to watch as the news unfolds.

Arnold Schwarzenegger was sworn into office as the Governor of California on 11/17/2003 at 11:22 AM, Sacramento, CA

Scott Peterson’s birth data is now complete and confirmed. He was born on 10/24/1972 at 9:36 AM PDT, San Diego, CA. Look for a change in venue and possibly the defense asking for a speedy trial. Most criminal trials are speedy in California under the 60-day requirement. At the next hearing these two things should be ruled on.

Here is the latest information I have on the upcoming political candidates for the Election 2004. As I get updated information, I will pass it on.

Democratic National Convention
7/26-29, 2004 in Boston, Mass.

Republican National Convention
8/30-9/2, 2004 in New York

Wesley Clark
12/23/1944
5:43 AM CWT
Chicago, Illinois

John Edwards
6/10/1953
7:02 AM
Seneca, S.C.

Howard Dean
11/17/1948
7:21 PM
New York, NY

John Kerry
12/11/1943
7:10 AM MWT
Denver, Colorado

Dennis Kucinich
10/8/1946
5:53 PM
Cleveland, Ohio

Carol Mosley Braun
8/16/1947
Noon
Chicago, Illinois

Dick Gephardt
1/31/1941
Noon
St. Louis, Missouri

Al Sharpton
10/3/1954
Noon
Brooklyn, NY

Run these charts and see if you can pick the Democratic nominee. I'll reveal mine in January at our meeting. If I find any changes, I'll give them at the Christmas party. Right now, I'll keep it "Short & Sweet"...judy

Last Month's Education Topics

Judy Collins was unable to attend last month, so Anne Vick and Ken Hopkins filled in as educational speakers.

Michael Jackson

Anne Vick presented the chart of Michael Jackson (8-29-58, 12:09 p.m., Gary, Indiana). Anne said that the current situation has been unfolding since March, 3 months before the May 31 solar eclipse that occurred in 9 degrees of Gemini. That eclipse activated Jackson's 8th house.

As of November 21, 2003, Jackson's progressed Ascendant was in 17 Sagittarius. Pluto has been there for about two years. His progressed Mars has been squaring his natal Sun and Pluto. Three months ago, his progressed Moon was conjunct his natal Neptune, ruler of his 5th (children) from the 12th (behind the scenes). Transiting Mars went retrograde at 0 Pisces, opposing his natal Pluto and squaring his progressed Mars.

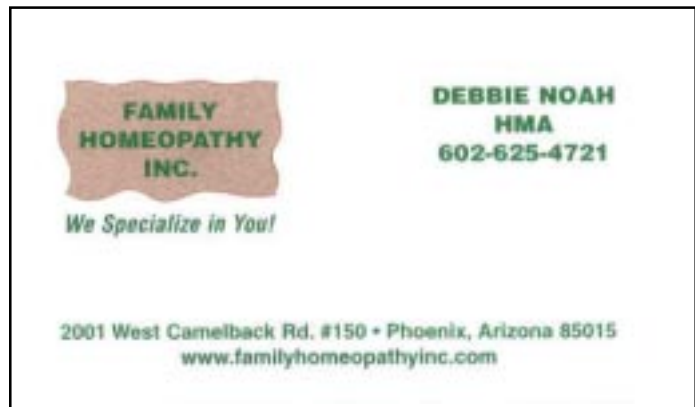

Declinations

Ken Hopkins gave a short discussion of declinations as both a predictive tool and an interpretive tool. The declination of a planet is a measure of the number of degrees it is north or south of the ecliptic at any given time. The ecliptic is the path the Sun takes as it appears to orbit the earth. Whenever a planet goes beyond 23 1/2 degrees north or south, it is said to be out of bounds and has the potential for extreme activity.

Declinations really come to light when you create a graphical layout of planetary motion. The Moon moves in a big wave across the other planets. If you view the Moon as the soul on its journey, there is activity every time the Moon hits a declination point.

When the Moon is in the northern hemisphere, the soul is building karma. When it is in the southern hemisphere, karma is being fulfilled and other people are in control. In Michael Jackson's horoscope, the Moon is heading into the southern hemisphere. It just hit Neptune, which rules his 5th. Early next year, it will hit Jupiter. A lot of relationships happen when the Moon hits the bottom of its cycle.

In baseball, players have their home run hit years when the Moon hits their north node.

Difficult Planetary Aspects

By Virginia Reyer

Virginia Reyer is a longtime ASA member who has spent over 60 years doing astrology. Her collection of charts and chart data is immense and impressive. She was generous enough to share some of her articles, which will be published in this newsletter as space allows.

Sun – Moon: disharmony relating to parents or to the early childhood, inner discontent and inner tension. Vitality and feeling. Touchy. Possessive.

Sun – Mercury conjunction: lack of clarity, absent-mindedness, inability to say no.

Sun – Venus semisquare: lazy and pleasure-seeking, sensual, irresponsible.

Sun – Mars: overstrain, overdoing and thus impairing the vitality. Bad temper. Minor accidents.

Sun – Jupiter: overconfidence, exaggeration, extravagance, imprudence. Relies too much on luck. Showy.

Sun – Saturn: karma, a hard life, lack of vitality, inhibition, separation, hereditary affliction, self-pity.

Sun – Uranus: a contradictory nature, impatient, self-willed, disruptive, unconventional, unusual and nervous, eccentric, abrupt.

Sun – Neptune: weakness, sensitivity, self-deception, easily influenced, day-dreaming, vagueness, drug addiction, hypochondriac, insanity, unusual, fearful.

Sun – Pluto: extremist, seduction, perversion, racketeering, obscene, recklessness, nonconformist, Domineering, suspicious, jealous.

Moon – Mercury: restless, excitable, gossipy, critical, worrywart, indecisive, dishonest, immature.

Moon – Venus: lack of harmony in the home, moody, conflicts in love, uneasy expression of affection.

Moon – Mars: impulsive actions, strong excitability, quarrelsomeness, fluctuating energy. Irritability.

Moon – Jupiter: religious or legal conflicts, marital differences, wastefulness, indifference, injustice, unpopularity, over-confidence, poor loser. Lazy. Gambler, self-righteous, too blunt, conceited.

Moon – Saturn: lack of confidence, anxiety, feelings of inferiority, limitation, crystallization, slow, dull, greedy, rigid, vengeful, worries through the family. Isolation. Unsympathetic, resentful.

Moon – Uranus: emotional tension, excessive self-will, stubbornness, fanaticism, unrest or restlessness, states of fear, upsets in the home. Perversion. Irresponsibility. Unconventionality, impractical ideas.

Moon – Neptune: incoherence, lack of stability, weakness, dishonesty, lack of confidence.

Moon – Pluto: extreme emotions and upsets, impulsive actions, personal insults, many upsets. Extreme.
